FLDP Post-Session Report

Your experience is vital to planning and improving future sessions. The information below is intended to help both future session leaders in identifying speakers and resources, and the Steering Committee in planning quality sessions. For the best results, the session leader is asked to complete and e-mail this to exec@fluvannaleadership.org within one week of the session.

Feedback about the session (strengths, weaknesses, speakers, format, venue, suggested changes, etc.)

This was a new session where we introduced the project topics that were approved. The class was divided into several small groups who traveled from table (by topic) to table listening to the Exec. Committee team member provide insights into the topic and what it was about and answered class member questions. Following the session, class members chose their top choices via Survey Monkey. James Kelley tallied the results and assigned each class member to (hopefully) one of their three top contender topics. The students were notified and they began to formally meet and decide on their leadership, etc.

Session was very well received and students felt informed prior to selecting the project they would most like to work on.

Please return within one week of the session to: exec@fluvannaleadership.org
Thank you for helping improve our program!
